

Can you live without the Internet?

Technologies invaded everything, every place, everybody's mind,
erasing imagination.

You are not able to look into each other's eyes anymore, to ask for directions, nor to think it could be ok to live without being famous.

This technosociety has to be stopped
before
the digital world will destroy everybody's humanity.

hack4humans will shut Internet down

We discovered everything about the Web, about software, and about security. We broke every security system, we can get everywhere.

Can you communicate without e-mail or without Whatsapp? Would you be able to find what you are looking for without using Google? Can you survive without the Web?

We challenge you!

We hid some hints: you have a chance to save the Internet if you are able to find our secret headquarters before we shut the Internet down.

Are you really sure you want to save the Web, and give up your humanity?
